RECIPE FOR DIARRHOLA.-Take one teaspoonful of salt, the same of vinegar, and a tablespo nful of water; mix and drink. It acts like a charm on the system, and even one dose will generally cure obstinate cases of diarrhoa or the first stage of cholers. If the first dose does not bring complete relief repeat the dose, as it is quite harmless. The patient should keep perfectly quiet, a reclining posture being best. In severe cases soak the feet thoroughty in very warm water, chafing them well. Flannel wet with warm water, vinegar and salt (especially in warm weather) and placed around the loins, wrapping warm flannel over it, is an excellent aid to recovery. Any and every one can apply these remedies without a physician, running ne risk, and will be astonished at the beneficial result. They should be universally known,

A CURE FOR CHILLS -About two years since, says the Columbus (Ga.) Enuniver, we stated that a citizen of this vicinity had told us that he had broken and cured a spell of chills and fever by the use of pure apple vinegar-drinking about a wine-glass full at a time, at intervals before the time for the return of the chill The Rome (Ga.) Courier reports cures by the same course in its neighborhood. It says that a lady friend has known this recipe to be used in many cases, and has never known it to fail in curing chills and fever. "Take a wineglass full of the best apple vinegar for nine mernings in this way: Take it three successive days, then omit it three days, and so on until the vinegar has been taken nine mornings in all. The vinegar must be a first rate article of apple vinegar."

WINTER EVERGREENS -A beautiful and easily attained show of evergreens may be had by a very simple plan, which has been found to work remarkably well on a small scale. If geranium branches taken from luxuriant and healthy trees, just before the winter sets in, be cut as for slips, and immersed in soap water, they will, after drooping a few days, shed their leaves, and put forth fresh ones, and continue in the finest vigor all winter. By placing a number of bottles thus filled in a flower basket, with moss to conceal the bottles, a show of evergreen is easily secared for the winter. All the different varieties of the plant being used, the various shapes and colors of the leaves blend into a beautiful effect. They require no fresh water. So says a lady who has

MINCED MUTTON .- This is a very useful preparation of "cold mutton," and will be found exc. Hent for a change. Cut slices off a cold roasted leg of mutton, and mince it very fine; brown some flour in butter, and moisten it with some gravy; LARGEST, add salt and pepper to taste, and let it simmer about ten or fifteen minutes, to take off the raw taste of the flour; add another lot of butter and some paraley chopped fine, then add the minced meat, and let it simmer slowly, but not boil, or the meat will be hard.

A CHEAP FAMILY PUDDING .- One pound of flour, one round of suet chopped tine, three-quarters of a pound of molasses or sugar, one pound each of carrots and potatoes well boiled and mashed together, half a pound of raisins, three-quarters of AT LOWEST RATES a pound of bread crumbs; spice, flavoring and peel optional. Mix the whole together with a little water; it must not be Rub a basin well with dipping, and boil for eight hours.

To REVIVE faded flowers, cut the stalk and hold it a few moments in the flame of the candle, and then set the flower again in the cold water, when it will recover its strength almost visibly after this violent assistance, and blossom immediately.

-When the first schooner ever built on the coast of Massachusetts sailed from her stocks and floated gracefully upon the water, the chance exclamation of an admiring bystander, "Oh, how she secons!" drew from her contriver and builder the answer, "A schooner let her be then," and made a new English word.
